INSTRUCTIONS FOR PRESENTERS

Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement

Please note that it is mandatory for all Congress participants to include in their presentation a statement either to disclose any potential or direct conflict of interest, or, alternatively, to state that they have no conflict of interest. All authors must disclose any financial and personal relationships with other people or organisations that could inappropriately influence (bias) their work. Examples of potential conflicts of interest include employment, consultancies, stockownership, honoraria, paid expert testimony, patent applications/registrations, and grants or other funding.

- Conflict of Interest Statement
  A (author name) serves as a consultant to Z (entity name); B’s spouse is chairman of Y; C received a research grant from X; D receivedlemure fees from V; E holds a patent on U; F has been reimbursed by T for attending several conferences; G received honoraria for writing promotional material for S; H has no conflict of interest.

  or

- Conflict of Interest Statement
  The authors declare that they have no conflict of interest.

For oral presentations: your conflict of interest disclosure statement should be at the beginning of your presentation (i.e., first or second slide to be the disclosure statement slide).

For poster presentations: your conflict of interest disclosure statement should be included at the bottom of your poster even if you have no conflict of interest to declare, your presentation must include the statement “I have no potential conflicts of interest to report”.